Starting Off on the Right Track: Early Childhood Mental Health Now Offered at MCUM

Along with welcoming the new year here at MCUM, we're also welcoming a new individual to our staff. Jessica Bare is a mental health intern who will be working with our childcare students and their families for the next year and a half! She is a graduate student from Indiana University pursuing a Master's degree in counseling. With Jessica's support, MCUM will host one of Monroe County's first early childhood therapy programs held in a childcare center.

Under supervision from Education Coordinator Tina Burress, our preschool staff currently utilizes the Conscious Discipline method to recognize and diffuse problems and behavioral issues in children. Having a counselor/therapist on-staff means that MCUM's students will have additional, supplemental support in correcting and identifying problems in the classroom.

If corrected at a young age, behaviors such as explosive tempers, solitary or withdrawn personalities or not knowing how to express feelings appropriately can be addressed, avoiding larger problems in the future. Statistically, having Jessica on staff means that our preschoolers will be even more socially-prepared to enter kindergarten than they already are: 73% of children in our program are ready for entry to kindergarten in comparison to only 33% county-wide.

With Jessica on board and continued staff training through Conscious Discipline, MCUM hopes to raise that percentage even higher and help children who come through our program quell small behavioral issues early on so that they don't turn into bigger issues.

If requested, Jessica can also work one-on-one with families and kids in our program. While Jessica is only here interning with us for the short-term, Executive Director Erin Predmore has worked out a partnership with Indiana University that will make MCUM a permanent intern placement site.

Thank You!

Caution: Wet Paint

MLK volunteers paint Childcare Center

From Saturday through Monday of the weekend preceeding Martin Luther King Day, community members from First United Methodist Church's Open Door group gathered at MCUM to tackle a weekend-long project at the preschool. Thanks to the support of more than 40 volunteers and MCUM childcare staff, MCUM's classrooms and hallways have all received a fresh coat of paint!

A project of this magnitude is costly and typically requires hired-out labor. Thankfully, members from the Open Door at First United Methodist Church chose to donate their time and MCUM received a grant from The City of Bloomington's MLK Commission to cover the cost of paint and supplies. Thanks to these partners, our childcare families returned to school on Tuesday to find all the rooms and hallways had been brightened up. Check out the pictures below to see all the fun they had!

Our SPEA fellow Steve Thomas headed the crew, cheerfully giving instruction and help when necessary. Tina Haley, a member of the volunteer crew, heard about the opportunity through her church. She was already singing in the church's peace choir on Martin Luther King Day, but wanted to do more service work in light of the holiday, so she signed up to help MCUM to complete the project. While she said she has limited painting experience, Haley enjoyed the project. "It was fun - it was meditative," Haley said. "I have patience [now]!"

THE MCUM HUNGER GAMES

March 1 - April 30

Monroe County United Ministries | Spring Food Drive
Community-wide goal of $40,000 & 8,000 LBS of food

Join a District

Congregations, Clubs, Student Groups, & Corporations are all welcome!

Help Us Meet Our Goal

$40,000 & 8,000 lbs of food

In addition to gifts from generous individuals in the community, Tributes from various Districts will go head-to-head to win the title of the MCUM Hunger Games Champion.

TAKING
HUNGER

This goal will provide 5,500 meals and 1,400 household items to families in need and will help 75 individuals on the verge of homelessness stay in their homes.

From March 1 through April 30, MCUM supporters are invited to take part in our second-annual MCUM Hunger Games! During these two months, all food and household/hygiene donations and financial donations will be proportionately-matched, helping stretch each donation even farther. What could get better? How about prizes!

That's right - you can join a "District" (team) to compete against others to see who earns the most points. Districts earn points based on the weight of donations and amount of money raised, but can also earn points for participating in other activities - like making a videos, inviting MCUM speakers to a group meeting, posting pictures of your food dive on social media, and more. What a fun way to bring your friends together to raise awareness for local hunger!

Full event details will be posted online at www.mcum.org/hungergames in the next few weeks.
