In recent months, MCUM has adopted a new type of self-sufficiency coaching called Your Path. Your Path is a two-part technique focusing first on the problem causing the financial struggle and then on the path to self-sufficiency. One key component of Your Path is an overwhelming focus on “It’s not you.” The issue causing financial struggle could be a variety of things including generational poverty, job scarcity, or low wages. The key is that the issue is not the person living in poverty. It is not their fault. There are barriers in place making upward mobility very difficult to accomplish, causing the common misconception that those in poverty cannot succeed for personal reasons. Instead, the issue is the circumstances.

Your Path works to alter the mindset society instills in so many living in poverty. This method is different because Your Path treats the effect of poverty, rather than the symptoms. To accomplish the goals of Your Path, MCUM offers coaching sessions in which clients have regular, one-on-one meetings to focus on future goals and a future self. This type of coaching creates a clear, strong partnership, providing the clients help to stay on target for their goals.

Ultimately, the goal of Your Path is to provide a pathway to self-sufficiency for the client. Over time, the skills learned will become habits and the coach’s support will be needed less and less.

This style of coaching is, as self-sufficiency coach Kay Goodman stated, “client driven.” “I tell them ‘you are the driver of the bus’” she said when explaining how clients who want to follow Your Path have the power to take control of their path to self-sufficiency. There are five pillars of Your Path: family stability, well-being, financial management, education & training, and employment & career management. Clients have the ability and opportunity to choose which of these pillars they wish to dedicate their focus.

Although this practice was only adopted in February, MCUM has already seen great success with many of their Your Path clients.

Above are two pictures of our newly decorated lobby in our Self-Sufficiency Center. We are currently redoing our lobby in the hopes of making it a more inviting, relaxing waiting area. Thus far, we have added comfortable furniture, a table, and refreshments.
Help us close the gap!

Summer Campaign: $12,633 of $50,000 raised!

Our summer campaign is well underway with $12,633 of $50,000 raised. Though uncharacteristic for us to ask for funds mid-year, summer tends to be a slower fundraising season for us. That’s why we’re reaching out to you to help us close a budget gap now rather than waiting until our end-of-year campaign.

With more children home from school in the summer, food demand increases while donations decrease causing a shortage of both food and funds in summer months. Because of this, we need your help to complete our summer campaign goal and close the gap that the summer months cause.

Support MCUM’s Self-Sufficiency Center and Compass Early Learning Center by making a donation to the agency through August. We are trying to raise $50,000 for our programs! You can donate online at www.mcum.org/donate.

Matching Opportunity through MCUM’s endowment

Want to give a gift that is both matched and creates a lasting legacy? Contribute to MCUM’s endowment before the end of the year to receive a 2:1 match on your gift and help us grow our endowment, which will provide the agency with benefits in perpetuity. To participate, send a check with “MCUM” in the memo line to the Community Foundation of Bloomington & Monroe County – 100 S College Ave #240, Bloomington, IN 47404.

A Note about NAP Tax Credits

We are disappointed to say that we do not have NAP tax credits available at this time. However, the state funding cuts will impact our budget by more than $8,000 so your continued support of our programs is more important than ever. We hope you will make a tax-deductible donation, instead, to our summer campaign.

Each One, Feed One

Our annual Each One, Feed One Community Food Drive is right around the corner and will take place August 9-11 at area grocery stores.

Volunteer sign up is live! Sign up to collect, deliver, and sort donations at www.mcum.org/eofo or contact Katie at kbroadoot@mcum.org.

Help us set yet another “Each One, Feed One” record! Share our food drive dates with your network, organize your own EOFO drive to culminate the same weekend, and mark your calendar!

Between the times of 4 pm and 8 pm on August 9th, 10 am and 4 pm on August 10th, and 1 pm and 4 pm on August 11th MCUM volunteers will be stationed at all of the major grocery stores in town, including Lucky’s, IGA, Bloomingfoods, Wal-Mart, Kroger, and Fresh Thyme. Interested customers will be given lists of item accepted by our pantry which customers can buy and immediately donate to MCUM. Simply by adding an item or two to your regular shopping list you could be the difference in a fellow community member’s food security that month.

Each year, the Each One, Feed One Community Food Drive is a driving force in keeping MCUM’s food pantry and hygiene closet stocked until the holiday season. Help us make this year a success!
